『韓英大字典』 [解題]

김해정 (우석대학교 교수)

I

1.1. 한국에서 처음 간행한 한·영사전은 미국인 기독교 선교사인 H. G. Underwood(1859-1916)이 1890년에 간행한 『한영ᄌᆞ뎐』이었다. 이 책은 작지만 개화기에 외국인들이 한국어 공부를 할 때 아주 중요한 책이었을 것이다. 또한 우리나라 사람들이 영어 공부를 할 떄에도 이 사전이 아주 좋은 길잡이가 되었을 것으로 믿는다. [解題]의 題目을 '『韓英大字典』'으로 한 것은 그 분량이 비교가 안될 만한 점을 평가하여 앞에 세우기는 하였지만 '『한영ᄌᆞ뎐』'을 먼저 해제하고자 한다. 그것은 먼저 간행되었기 때문이기도 하고 '한영'과 '영한' 두 부분으로 나누어서 한 책으로 만든 것을 머리에 두었다. 비록 몸집은 작지만 그 편집 방법으로 인하여 간편했을 것을 또한 높이 평가하여 먼저 해제를 하였다. [解題]도 간략하게 하였다. 이 사전의 表題는 『韓英字典』/『한영ᄌᆞ뎐』/『A CONCICE DICTIONARY of the KOREAN LANGUAGE in two parts KOREAN-ENGLISH & ENGLISH-KOREAN』[/by Horace Grant Underwood A.M.]이다. 요꼬하마에서 인쇄하였다. part 1이 198 쪽이고,part 2는 297쪽이다. 수록 어휘가 4,800이었다.

1.2. 조금 늦기는 하였지만 J.S.Gale(1863 - 1934)이 1897년에 간행한 초간본 『韓英字典』이 있다. 이 사전을 편찬한 동기를 초판의 서문에서 "외국인이나, 한국인이 한국어와 문학을 공부하는데 도움을 주기위하여"라고 썼다. 초간본에 수록한 어휘는 3만 5천이었다. 일본 요꼬하마에서 인쇄하였다. 어휘 배열은 로마 자모의 순서로 하였다.

제2판 『韓英字典』은 1911년에 간행하였다. 초판을 訂正增補에 역점을 두었다. 5만여 어휘를 수록하였다. 초판과 달리 어휘들을 한글 자모순으로 배열하였고 초판 제2편에 수록했던 漢英辭典(Chinese-English Dictionary)을 삭제하였다.

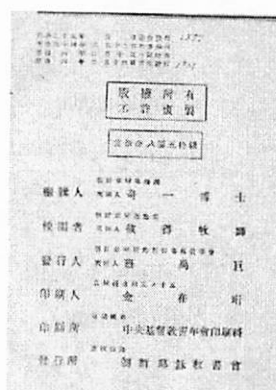

제3판은 제2판 『韓英字典』을 訂正增補하여 1931년에 『韓英大字典』(Unabridged Korean English Dictionary)으로 표제를 바꾸었다. 수록한 어휘 수도 8만 2천이었다. J.S.Gale이 서울에서 인쇄 발행했다. 편집인을 '英國人 奇一(Gale의 한국 이름)博士'라 했다. 이 사전도 역시 한글 자모순으로 배열했다. 당시 우리말 항목을 많이 등재한 사전이기 때문에 우리나라 사람들도 많이 애용했다고 한다. 특히 통속적인 어휘들을 많이 수록하였기 때문에 더욱 관심을 가지고 보았다고 한다. 제 3판에 부록으로 실은 것을 보면 각종 기호, 약자,부호 등과 漢字의 聲調와 吏讀에 관한 기록이 있다. 이밖에 年號, 十干十二支의 이름과 기타 동양적인 특징이 있는 것들을 영문으로 기록하여 외국인들의 이해를 돕기 위해서 노력한 모습을 알 수 있다. 發行所 京城 朝鮮 耶蘇敎書會.

1.5.한글자모 순서에 따라서 배열하려고 노력하였으나 모음 'ㅣ'를 자음 중에 넣었다. 어휘 항목이 등재된 면의 아랫부분에는 'ㄱ ㄴ ㄷ ㄹ ㅁ ㅂ ㅅ ㅣ ㅇ ㅈ ㅊ ㅋ ㅌ ㅍ ㅎ 가갸 거 겨 고 교 구 규 그 기 ᄀᆞ'에서 보는 바와 같이 'ㅅ' 다음에 'ㅣ'를 배열하였다. 본 사전의 p.9를 보면 '가슬가슬ᄒᆞ다' '가슴츠레ᄒᆞ다', '가싀다', '가싀아비', '가싀어미', '가숑','가시'에서 보는 바와 같다.

2.1. 등재한 82,000 항목은 양적인 면에서도 대단한 결실임을 알 수 있겠다. 1945년 이전의 국어사전으로서 유용한 편찬이었다는 점이다. 한자의 옥편의 역할도 할 수 있었다. Gale은 한국학에 두루 깊은 관심을 가졌다고 한다. 그의 중요한 업적은 『辭課指南』(Korean Grammatical Forms). 『韓國風俗誌』(영역), 『朝鮮人物史』, 『韓國近代史』) 등이 있다.

2.2..사전의 윗부분에 좌우로 나누어 그 페이지의 첫 항목과 끝 항목을 보여 준 것은 이용의 편의를 제공했다.

2. 3. 고유어와 한자어를 잘 대비시켜서 漢字語인 경우 한자를 쓰고 그 漢字의 뜻을 ( )속에 넣었다. 동음이의어인 경우도 한자로 구분하였고 고유어의

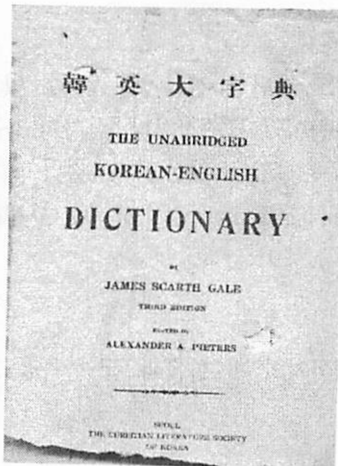

동음이의어는 영어로 그 뜻을 구분하여 정리를 하였다.

2 .4. 단어마다 모음의 장단을 표시하였다.'l'은 장음, 's'는 단음

PREFACE.

The absence of a dictionary of the Korean language in English, makes the need of some such work apparent. It was with a full realization of this fact that the author after a few months residence in the country, began the collection and systematic arrangement of Korean words with their English equivalents, now nearly five years ago. In the midst of other duties, but a small portion of time could be devoted to this work and in fact it has not infrequently happened that for six months at a time it has been necessary to leave it entirely untouched. For the most part, it has been left to summer vacations, when freedom from many other duties, left time to carry on this work. Consequent upon this, at the opening of last summer only some ten thousand words on either side had been classified and arranged with their synonyms.

At this time the feasibility of preparing for immediate use, a small concise pocket dictionary, which should contain as far as possible, all of the most useful words of the language was suggested to, and urged upon the author.

With the assistance of Mr. James S. Gale, and Professor Homer B. Hulbert, the task was begun of selecting and arranging only the most common of those words which had already been defined, and of adding such as had not up to that time been placed in the as yet unfinished larger dictionary.

In this undertaking, the aim has been to give all the most common words, and at the same time not to exceed in size, the limits of a pocket dictionary. There are many words which the author felt constrained to include, and yet, had not the line been rigidly drawn somewhere, the primary object of the work would have been lost, and he was forced to let them remain in the columns of the larger dictionary.

On the Korean-English, or first part, assistance was rendered by Mr. Gale, and on the second, or English-Korean, by Professor Hulbert, of the Royal Korean University. One of the great difficulties encountered in this work is the chaotic condition of Korean orthography. Spelling in Korea is purely phonetic, and as each man is "a law unto himself" in this matter, and as even then the law is quite the reverse of those of the Medes and Persians, almost insurmountable difficulties surround those who attempt to find a standard; for although as has been said no two men spell alike, each claims that his is the right way, while acknowledging that others may be allowable. All, however, acknowledge that the spelling as given in the "Chyen Oun Ok Hpyen" (全韻玉篇) is allowable, most consider it a good method of spelling, while a large number consider it the true and only method, and it has been deemed best therefore to take this as the standard, and as far as possible it has been made the basis of the spelling in this dictionary. With reference to the host of words which cannot be found in the "Ok Hpyen," the effort has been made, to ascertain from the derivation what the true spelling should be. In many cases by careful searching it has been found that words which have been looked upon as pure Korean are really derived from the Chinese, and they have been spelled accordingly. Each word has been carefully compared with the corresponding word in the "Dictionaire Coréen—Français" and all words for which no authoritative standard could be found, have been made to coincide with it in spelling.

In the matter of the order of the letters, it has been deemed best to follow, here also, the plan of the above mentioned work. A change to the Korean order has been thought in many ways better, but as yet so few Koreans are studying English, and most English students of Korean are so intimately acquainted with the order there used, that this hardly seems the time for a change.

That used is as follows :—

아, 야, ᄋᆞ, 어, 여, 으, 이, 오, 요, 우, 유,
ᄒᆞ, ᄀ, ᄏ, ᄆ, ᄂ, ᄋ, ᄇ, ᄑ, ᄅ, ᄉ, ᄃ, ᄐᆞ, ᄌᆞ, ᄎᆞ.

Note.—ㄴ and ㄹ at the beginning of a word, having the same sound, and being indistinguishable, words beginning with ㄴ and ㄹ are placed together as though they were one and the same letter.

The Korean alphabet containing but twenty five letters which can be learned by any one in a day, no transliteration has been attempted. Not only is it unnecessary, but proves in most cases more of a hindrance than a help. The learning of the alphabet is simple, the various sounds represented by each letter, can soon be acquired, and while a Romanization of the words, following not the writing but the sounds might in many cases be a help, it is far better for the student to acquire the pronunciation for himself.

With reference to definitions, great care has been exercised to obtain accuracy, to give the word neither too broad a definition, nor to restrict it too narrowly. Words of Chinese derivation, have been carefully compared with their corresponding terms in "William's Syllabic Dictionary of the Chinese Language" and most words of purely Korean origin have been critically examined and tested in every conceivable way, so that no shade of meaning, or method of use should by any chance be lost sight of. The necessity of this becomes apparent upon the first attempt to obtain the simplest definition from a Korean teacher.

To the work of the French missionaries in their admirable dictionary, the author takes pleasure in acknowledging the assistance derived, especially in the Korean-English part, although he differs from them in so many points, both as to orthography and definition.

Thanks also are due to Mr. Song Soun Yong (宋淳容) but for whose careful work, and thorough acquaintance with the uses of the Ernmun, the present work could not have attained the same degree of accuracy.

For convenience in handling, and in accordance with the primary idea of the book it is issued in two volumes, but as there is as yet no other English dictionary of the Korean language, another or Student edition is issued at the same time; the only difference being that the Student Edition is in one volume with margins, while the pocket edition is in two volumes without margins.

Hoping that the book may be helpful and meet a long felt want, it is now humbly offered to the students of Korean.

Seoul Korea, H. G. U.
